

Blessed And Giving

"You only believe what you put into practice."

Purpose: The combination of the pandemic and military coup in Myanmar has created an economic crisis resulting in over three million lost jobs as well as escalating food prices placing an estimated 31.5 million in need of humanitarian aid.

Where: The metropolitan areas of Yangon, Mawlamyine, and Bagan as well as the rural areas of the Karen State and Tanintharyi Division in Eastern and Southern Myanmar and the mountainous Chin State.

When: As a result of airstrikes, artillery shelling, and the burning of villages, the United Nations estimates over 3 million people have been displaced from their homes and now living in caves, jungles and along river banks. The need is immediate and ongoing!

By Whom: Love for Myanmar in-country, native staff and volunteers

For How Many: 3,200 people within our house church network, 525 people within our five orphanages and neighborhoods, 400 people within the leprosy hospital and villages we minister, 110 people within the area of our learning center representing an estimated total of 1,058 families in our ministry areas, and countless displaced people.

Budget: One bag of food supplies cost $42 and typically consists of rice, cooking oil, and vegetables designed for a family of four expected to last approximately one month. Medicines, sleeping mats, mosquito nets, blankets, and other basic survival items are included in the distribution when circumstances allow.

"It is good to be blessed. It is better to be a blessing."
